

Discord Terms of Service

HackIllinois: HackThis 2020

Our Discord Terms of Service can be found here. By registering for our event, you are agreeing to our discord terms of service.

Rules:

- Be respectful of community members and staff. We as an organization strive to foster friendly relations and offer a place for attendees to socialize.
- No hate speech, racism, homophobia, NSFW content, or any sort of bullying.
- Doxxing of any sort WILL result in a permanent ban from our event.
- HackIllinois will not tolerate any unsolicited advertising. Any unsolicited advertising on our channels will result in possible participant removal.
- Do not invite any bots into the discord server.
- Keep the channels on topic
- By agreeing to our terms of service, you are agreeing that HackIllinois bots are able to moderate conversations on our servers for any inappropriate behavior, including but not limited to harassment. If there is any language used that is offensive, hurtful, or demeaning, the participant may be asked to leave the server.
- While using our discord servers, you are agreeing to communicate in English to enable our staff to moderate channels to avoid cases of harassment or inappropriate behavior. Any participant who needs to communicate in a language other than English should contact us at contact@hackillinois.org or reach out to us by using @staff on discord.
- HackIllinois will not tolerate impersonation of any kind. This is including, but not limited to, impersonating other users, moderators, or mentors.
- Have Fun!

Please reach out to us with any questions you may have concerning our policies.